THE DEAN POLICY.

Everton officials have not taken too kindly to their cup-tie defeat at Stamford Bridge, for it is an open secret that the Goodison Park officials had keen hopes of making a bid for the trophy this season, yet they contributed to their own defeat. Everton plied Dean with the ball all the time, and even when they found this did not pay they could not alter their habits and methods. Once again the "Blot out Dean and you'll beat Everton" theory has been demonstrated.

SPURS' VALUE.

When clubs in the position of Tottenham Hotspur and Middlesbrough fall into the Second Division their rivals are keen to keep them because they mean so much financially. They are not only a big draw, but they pay big sums out of their own gates to visitors. It is likely that the Spurs will hand out as much as £3,000 this season more than they receive from their out matches.

LEARN TIMES.

Cardiff City, who entertain Sheffield United, have undoubtedly fallen on lean times, for not only is their League position disturbing, but they have not even been vouchsafed their usual "splash" in the cup competition. The only point of real interest about their play at Villa Park was that Billy Hardy scored a cup goal for them. This famous player has rarely been a marksman, his last goal for the City dating back to the 1925-26 campaign. Two seasons earlier he scored two goals, the only time in his career he has ever done so.

THE REASON WHY?

Newcastle folk will be excusing their Cup defeat on the score of the absence of Hill from the centre half berth, and doubtless this had a lot to do with their surprising lapse. Oswald Park, who deputised for the ex-Burnley captain, was no match for David Morris, the Swindon goal-getter; in fact, he did not appear to try to shadow him at all.
